

Text-to-Speech

Providing verbal clarity for written exams

Introducing text-to-speech

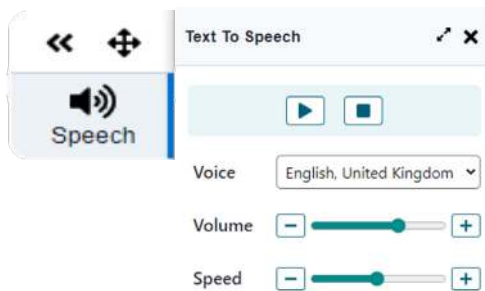

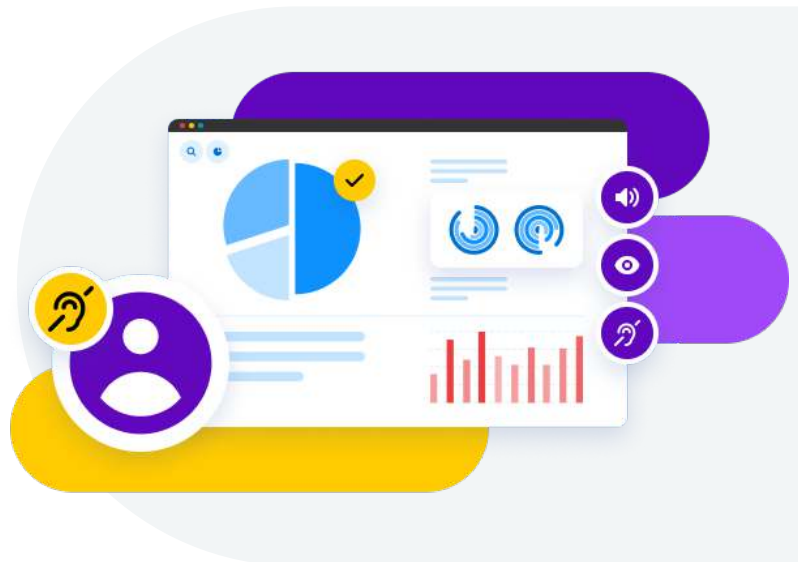

Inclusivity should never be an afterthought of assessment design, which is why we're constantly evolving our features with fairness at their core.

Our suite of tools (including Instant Translate) is built to level the playing field of assessments and ensure test-takers always get a fair learning experience, whether that's assisting non-native speakers or those who face exam anxiety.

Text-to-speech is the latest tool to this end and is designed to aid those who struggle with written information.

This flexible feature allows candidates to hear a question spoken aloud at the click of a button.

From those who have low confidence with written exams to people with reading difficulties, text-to-speech is an incredible aid that helps keep assessments fair and valid.

Benefits of text-to-speech

- Improves test-taker confidence and reduces exam anxiety
- Ensures a test-taker's skills and knowledge are being measured, rather than their reading comprehension
- Is a fully flexible in-exam tool that's designed to be user-friendly and intuitive
- Helps a test taker's wider learning by combining both written and spoken information for maximum knowledge retention

Talk to us today at questionmark.com