

Workday Learning & Questionmark

Better Together

With the Questionmark and Workday Learning integration, you can embed learning seamlessly into the employee lifecycle with personalized, flexible, and curated learning material that's supported by robust and insightful assessments.

Discover greater ROI for your L&D ventures with our integration that takes native Workday Learning data and makes it accessible within the Questionmark platform for powerful reporting capabilities and real-time data-driven insights. And the best part? Not only does the integration allow for a smooth user interface and a streamlined learning experience, but it also opens up Workday Learning customers to the entire Questionmark suite of tools too.

The benefits of the Workday Learning & Questionmark integration

- When integrated with Questionmark, Workday Learning customers can benefit from powerful assessment authoring, secure delivery options, and robust reporting features.
- Questionmark assessments can be launched straight from the Workday Learning environment making for a seamless learner experience.
- The People Sync for Workday integration is a configurable and automated data sync that provides significant value and insight for a more detailed analysis of your results.
- With the addition of Questionmark, Workday Learning customers can enjoy all the benefits that come with comprehensive assessments, including remaining compliant, identifying skills gaps, ensuring health and safety competence—and so much more.

For more information about the Workday Learning and Questionmark integration, please reach out to:
workday@questionmark.com

Whether you're in finance, manufacturing, transportation or government, organizations globally utilize our integration to enhance the learner journey with high stakes assessments through Questionmark.

Reach out to our partner managers Chelsea and Emily today to see how you can leverage our assessment tool!